

Connected lighting. Go for tomorrow's lighting.

Bluetooth has become the standard for wireless data communication. How practical! This also means outdoor lights from STEINEL are easily interconnected too – even across different products. The free STEINEL app now lets you make any settings you choose and define whatever lighting mood you want.

Setting individual lights, grouping several lights – everything is easily done by app.

Wirelessly connectable. Bluetooth Mesh technology.

Now, for instance, you can wirelessly connect your path or outdoor wall lights with garden illumination. Your home and garden will be perfectly staged as soon as guests arrive. This can be done with all Bluetooth-capable products from the STEINEL range. Unsurpassed versatility, convenience and energy efficiency.
